AutoCAD is available as a desktop app for Windows, Macintosh, and Linux operating systems. When installed on a computer with a graphics card, AutoCAD provides two-dimensional (2D) vector graphics capabilities. When installed on a computer without a graphics card, AutoCAD's 2D features are available but with more limited functionality. 3D capabilities are available as a separate product called AutoCAD LT. AutoCAD is available as both an OEM and retail software product. OEMs can integrate AutoCAD into their CAD workstations. The retail version of AutoCAD is intended to be sold to end-users. AutoCAD features include: Workflows - Coordinate drawing, drawing precision, measure tools, and drawing layout. 2D and 3D drawing. 2D drafting features. 2D and 3D CAD drafting and design tools. Multi-viewing of drawings. CAD design functions. Document and page management. AutoLISP programming and linking. Drawing area management. Application programming interfaces (APIs). SmartArt and SmartDraw technology. Customizing and editioning drawings. Product lifecycle management (PLM) features. Product presentation and information. 3D modeling and drafting. Draping and layout features. Direct and CAD table (2D and 3D) drawing. Integrated OLE development support. Object management system (OMS) functions. Engineering functionality. Technical editing. Rainflowautocad The UK's most wanted, American Jaycee Dugard, has been rescued from captivity and reunited with her family in California. About five years ago she was kidnapped by a couple with her two young daughters while she was on the way home from school in California. She was held in a small room by three men in a remote house for 18 months. They kept her chained and gagged for most of that time. The family, who know her only as "Jaycee" (she says her real name is Andrea), wanted to make sure that she was still alive before they released her to her loved ones. On Friday, after a family friend's tip-off, US authorities launched an investigation into the house in Arcadia, in the foothills of Los Angeles. They found her chained to a bed in a laundry room and took her to a hospital for treatment. She says her abductors threatened to kill her if she tried to escape or alerted the police. The woman's parents have moved from their home in Manchester, and one of her sisters came down from Scotland. The man who held her for so long also lives in California and has been arrested. A post on the Facebook page of her adoptive mother, Stacey Brown, said that Jaycee's health had been "phenomenal" and that she had responded to praise with a hug. She said she had not been abused. The family also revealed that one of the suspects held her daughter Akaisha, 13, in a room next to her. "I don't know what was done to my daughter because I was gagged the entire time. I heard many stories of what was done to her," Jaycee told
