An action RPG from the makers of the critically acclaimed and award-winning Legend of Heroes series, the new fantasy action RPG Elden Ring is coming in 2014. Elden Ring pits players in a world where the borders of lands like the Kingdoms of Pern and Faerûn exist seamlessly and where the Elden Ring rules, even over those other fantasy lands. The untold story of a conflict that lies behind the popular game "Legend of Heroes" unfolds, where the ideal of a single world transcending countries and even civilizations is challenged. Players can create their own avatar, exerting their own growth and personal development into the character through a variety of elements such as playing styles, costumes, and weapons, and then embark on a tremendous world of fantasy and adventure in a persistent world to encounter challenging monsters and explore the vast world of the Lands Between. The most detailed game in the Legend of Heroes series, Legend of Heroes: Trails of Cold Steel, will have a special post-launch update called "New Legend of Heroes", which includes a new story in the new world of Trails of Cold Steel, a new map, and 10,000 yen worth of downloadable content (DLC) items.
