Q: ASP.net mvc action cannot download file I have a little problem, I think maybe I'm doing something wrong because I'm new in asp.net. I have a simple asp.net mvc action and a controller with a GET method: `public ActionResult Download(string id) { var client = new WebClient(); byte[] file = client.DownloadData(""); return new FileStreamResult(file, "application/zip"); }` After calling my action I have an error in my browser: HTTP Error 404.0 - Not Found The requested content appears to be script and will not be served by the static file handler. How to solve it? A: So you should add a view for the action `@model byte[] @{ ViewData["Title"] = "Download"; } Download @{ Response.AppendHeader("content-disposition", "attachment;filename=xxxx.zip"); } File Contents @{ Response.Write(System.IO.File.ReadAllBytes("xxxx.zip")); }` You shouldn't be returning a byte array. You should return a `FileContentResult` object. The reason you're getting the error is because you return a `FileStreamResult` object from the action. And also your ajax call that calls the action needs to know about the extension in the result. For example `$.ajax({ url: '@Url.Action("Download", "ControllerName")', type: 'GET', data: 'id=' + id, mimeType: 'application/zip', success: function (result) { // do something with the file and move it to your temp directory }, error: function (xhr, textStatus, errorThrown) {`
